

Teaching the World to Cook- Anytime, Anywhere

With brick and mortar culinary schools closing their doors around the world, online learning is becoming the new industry standard for those seeking to learn foundational culinary technique.

With high definition videos, world-class instructors, peer support and interactive assignments Rouxbe has set the bar as the new standard in culinary education since 2005. Rouxbe trains hundreds of thousands of cooks in 180 countries with a team made up of former presidents, chief operating officers, school administrators and lead instructors in the foodservice industry.

Providing a world-class culinary training program for kitchen staff that meets the needs, schedule and budget of the client, CSM customers can take their staff to the next level with a superior culinary curriculum delivered through high-definition video and online tutorials.

First Steps

To request a new account under the CSM program, please send an email with your company name, location address and telephone number to membersupport@csmcostsolutions.com.