

Professional Expertise & High Quality Equipment

Traulsen has long been known as the premier name in refrigeration for the foodservice industry.

Traulsen provides professional expertise and high quality blast chillers for savvy food service customers who know how important temperature control is – and want peace of mind that their equipment will keep doing its job.

Traulsen's customers value high performance, reliability and longevity. They put their trust in Traulsen to deliver on all counts.

Every Traulsen blast chiller is engineered, fabricated, assembled and tested at a facility in Fort Worth, Texas. When you are purchasing equipment that is meant to last a long time, you deserve to know not only what goes into it, but where it comes from. Traulsen is proud to offer products designed and built in Texas.

First Steps

To request a new account under the CSM program, please send an email with your company name, location address and telephone number to membersupport@csmcostsolutions.com.