

MIDEA

EXCITING AND STYLISH PRODUCTS FOR GRACEFUL COOKING

Midea, established in 1968, is the largest manufacturer of microwaves in the world with over 40 million units produced annually.

In 2016, Midea became the first China based appliances manufacturer to enter the Fortune Global 500 and reached 323rd place.

Much of their existence has been producing commercial and consumer products for other manufacturers as they have partnered with well known brands such as Whirlpool, GE, Emerson, Danby, Breville, Bosch and Cuisinart to name a few.

Midea recently decided to market their own brand-named ovens and in the short period of time since the US launch, have climbed to the #4 position in the US foodservice commercial microwave category.

The line is all stainless steel, designed for commercial use by industry veterans, supported with an exchange warranty on 1000-watt models and priced to meet your needs.
